The Nicolozakes family of companies has a long and deep-rooted history in servicing the needs of southeastern Ohio industry. The roots of this family business date back to the late 1930s. After losing his bakery and house in the Great Depression, Gust Nicolozakes moved his wife and ten children into a chicken coop. From this hardship, this Greek immigrant and father of Nicolozakes Trucking & Construction, Inc.'s founders was able to bounce back and establish the Gust Nic Company, a trucking company that specialized in hauling and mining coal in eastern Ohio.
